

WALKING ON THE WEST PENNINE MOORS

30 routes in gritstone country

INFORMATION

The countryside around Blackburn, Darwen, Chorley and Bolton is home to some of the most inspiring and exhilarating walking country. Known as the West Pennine Moors, the area covers over 80 square miles, all of which is easily accessible. The variety and vibrancy of the landscape can be experienced everywhere - through colourful meadows and ancient woodland, across rugged moorland dissected by wooded valleys and next to the many rivers and reservoirs found in the area. The West Pennine Moors is a wild and diverse landscape, and these 30 walks provide a selection of both short and easy country rambles and more challenging walks. The area is also rich in historical heritage, including historic houses, monuments such as Holcombe Tower and Jubilee Tower, and other reminders of the industrial revolution.
