

TOUR OF THE VANOISE

A trekking circuit of the Vanoise National Park

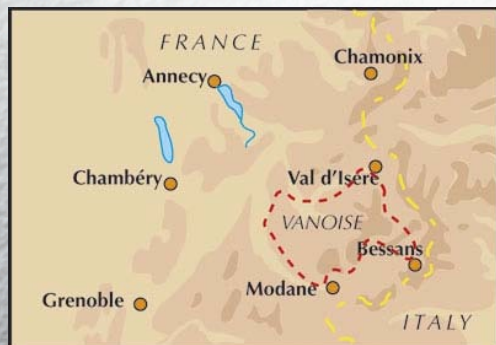

INFORMATION

Making a hut-to-hut journey through the heart of one of France's finest mountain regions, the Tour of the Vanoise makes a perfect introduction to Alpine trekking. The circuit explores the very best of the Vanoise National Park – a wonderland of 3000m peaks, glaciers, lakes, waterfalls and meadows full of flowers – giving plenty of opportunities to study marmot, chamois and ibex along the way.

As the 150km route takes 11–12 days to walk, it fits comfortably within a fortnight's holiday, and numerous strategically-placed huts enable trekkers to travel light and stay in simple comfort at the end of each stage.

- Route described in 11 easy day stages
- Other multi-day tours in the region suggested
- Accommodation, access and background information provided
